Who is Secondary Growing Leadership For?

This course is for students who are interested, or have a need for leadership development. These leaders may struggle with academics or personal organization, and/or access learning support services in their school. Teachers are encouraged to register for this course to be a part of their student's leadership journey. The course program is based on creative criteria that will use students' strengths, interests and affinities to encourage personal growth, resilience and leadership skills. Students will participate in Leadership Development sessions and workshops designed to build their leadership capacity so that students return to their schools ready to make a difference in their own lives and the lives of their peers.

Leadership Development Sessions

The leadership development sessions in Secondary Growing Leadership build on OELC's core capacities of communication, team building, risk-taking, goal setting, and personal challenge and expand it into three different themes:

Knowledge of Myself as a Leader: This theme includes developing the understanding that as leaders we always seek ways to learn and explore opportunities for our own personal growth. This theme also encourages leaders to look inward and reflect on their own personal strengths, affinities, challenges and fears that shape their personal leadership style. Finally this theme provides learning opportunities for students to investigate how they, as leaders, can navigate the digital world.

Attitudes of a Leader: This theme focuses on the mind-set that is needed to be a positive force in their own lives, which includes optimism, resiliency, hopefulness, confidence, empowerment and perseverance.

Skills of a Leader: The third theme of our leadership development sessions focuses on key leadership skills that students will begin (and continue) developing as they return to their school community. These include advocacy, creating a culture of inquiry, expressive language, and self-regulation.
